Our Brands

	Drills, taps, end mills, reamers, counterbores, countersinks and dies for general purpose machining and multi-application production environments. Dormer is recognized in high speed steel (HSS, HSCo, solid carbide) tooling technology. With versatility and flexibility, the brand has simplified cutting tool selection since 1913.
	The newest offering to North American customers. For more than 60 years, Pramet has developed a range of indexable carbide cutting tools which deliver quality and versatility across a wide range of general machining applications. The offer includes hole-making, milling and turning products totaling more than 5,000 items.
	PTD has delivered quality cutting tools for precision engineering environments, i.e. aerospace and automotive subcontracting, since 1952. What started in a suburban Chicago garage has grown into a recognized and widely respected brand. A strong product portfolio includes jobber drills, aircraft extension drills and sets.
	With roots dating back to 1895, the Union Butterfield brand is recognized as the reliable range in threading and drilling technology. Products include reamers, taps, dies, end mills and countersinks. Customers continue to benefit from the proprietary FLASHTAP® service which ensures quick delivery on popular taps and dies.
